Odin Appoints Canadian Exploration Manager and Completes First Phase of Data Compilation at the Sturgeon Lake Project

Odin Metals Limited (ASX: ODM) is pleased to announce that it has retained Mr. Steven Siemieniuk, P.Geo. of Superior Exploration Ltd. as its Canadian Exploration Manager. Mr. Siemieniuk is a professional geologist registered with the Association of Professional Geoscientists of Ontario ("APGO") and has worked as an exploration geologist for the past nine years. Mr. Siemieniuk has previously worked for Teck Resources and Clark Exploration Consulting Inc. where he has had experience exploring for a variety of commodities including diamonds, Cu-Ni-PGE, gold and base metals.

Odin Metals Limited's Executive Director, Mr. Jason Bontempo, commented:

"We are extremely pleased to have appointed Mr Siemieniuk as Odin Metal's Canadian Exploration Manager. We feel that his experience working in the Sturgeon Lake Camp with Xstrata Zinc (now Glencore Plc.) on various field mapping and diamond drill programs from 2010 to 2013 as a contract geologist with Clark Exploration Consulting Inc. is extremely beneficial to Odin as we begin to plan the 2018 work program."

Odin Metals Limited has also completed its initial data compilation for the Sturgeon Lake Project which involved compiling all publicly available geoscience data into one comprehensive database. Digitizing, analysis and planning of the 2018 exploration program has now commenced along with First Nation Consultation and the application for Exploration Plans and Permits with Ontario's Ministry of Northern Development and Mines ("MNDM").
